The cost of fuel has increased dramatically over the last year. Over the past year, the department's statewide average cost per gallon of gasoline and non-vehicular fuel increased 20 percent, aviation fuel (AVGAS) by 18 percent, JET A fuel by 14 percent, marine fuel by 27 percent, and diesel fuel by 35 percent; heating fuel costs have increased by 18 percent.
This funding will cover the projected increased cost of vehicle fuel.

This increment will increase CIP receipt authority in Fire Prevention Operations for plan review fees paid by other state agencies' CIP funds. CIP receipts have been increasing steadily over the past three years. This increment will be offset by a decrement to reduce inter-agency receipt authority within the same component.

This request funds a new Plans Examiner position (12-#006) for Fire Prevention. Due to the increased number of construction projects around Alaska, a Deputy Fire Marshal I has been assigned to perform plan examinations at the expense of completing life safety inspections. This position will be dedicated to the plan review process. It will allow the Plan Review section to conduct more plan reviews, and be able to accept the responsibility for Americans with Disabilities (ADA) provisions of the state-adopted International Building Code. Adding the ADA requirements to plan reviews will increase the time required on each review by approximately 10-15 percent.
Adding this position will have a positive impact on meeting the division's end results. Conducting plan reviews on new construction ensures the building will be built in compliance with codes ensuring fire safety for the occupants. A properly constructed building will alert the occupants in the event of a fire, and protect the occupants from fire or provide a safe means of egress from the building. This results in reduction of loss of life due to fire.
A building that meets the codes will contain or suppress a fire until the arrival of a firefighting crew, thus minimizing property damage and reducing property loss due to fire. A properly constructed building that passes the plan inspection phase should ensure functioning systems such as kitchen hood and duct systems, automatic fire suppression systems, heating and electrical systems, resulting in reduced structure fires in the state.

Federal funding has been available for assistance to firefighters and for public education from the Federal Emergency Management Administration (FEMA) and from the Department of Homeland Security, Office of Domestic Preparedness. Fire Prevention Operations is requesting $500.0 in federal authority to allow for these funds to be applied for and spent in a timely manner.
These federal funds allow the division to intensify efforts to meet the targets of providing training and assistance to rural fire departments, as well as reduce loss of life due to fires by educating the public and high risk groups.

This fund change replaces unrealized Receipt Supported Services authority with general funds to ensure that life safety inspections, remote fire investigations, and other essential services continue at budgeted levels. Without knowing how much revenue will be received each fiscal year, it is very difficult to budget. Fire and Life Safety functions are dependent upon those revenues to supplement existing general funds in order to perform life safety inspections, respond to remote fire investigations around Alaska, and support training efforts around the state.
RSS revenue has fallen well short of budgeted authority as the Plan Review Bureau has seen a decrease in large construction plan reviews from past fiscal years. The decrease can be partially attributed to less large-construction work where the plan reviews might cost upwards of $40,000 each, and to the fact that many cities are now doing their own plan reviews, such as Fairbanks, Wasilla, and Soldotna. For example, beginning in FY2007, the City of Wasilla began doing their own plan reviews for construction occurring in their area of responsibility. This resulted in an approximate net decrease of around $60,000 revenue from plan reviews now done by the City of Wasilla alone. The total decrease in plan review revenues from FY2006 to FY2007 was $317,000.
Receipt Supported Services revenues reached a peak in FY2005 at $1,290.5, and have declined each year to the FY2007 total of $907.1.
The Plan Review Bureau will continue to be fully funded from the fees it generates from plan reviews. This request will provide enough general funds for the division's other bureaus to plan regular life safety inspections, and budget for other programs to meet the mission of preventing loss of life and property from fire.

(I/A Authority from DNR Pipeline Coordinator's Component)
The division is reorganizing to create the Office of Oil and Gas Systems Facilities. Three positions will be funded primarily with interagency receipts from Department of Natural Resources (DNR), Pipeline Coordinator component. This office will provide one-stop servicing for fire inspection, plan review, fire investigation, fire detection and suppression system maintenance, and review of emergency response plans and fire response training for the whole oil and gas industry, statewide, to include onshore and offshore facilities. The office will be located with the Joint Pipeline Office and act as a liaison agency supporting DNR, the Bureau of Land Management, and associated governmental oversight agencies for the Trans-Alaskan Pipeline Service Company (TAPS) and all hazardous pipeline facilities located throughout the state. Currently, this model is only applied to TAPS.
A vacant Fire Training Specialist position is transferred to Fire and Life Safety Operations component in a separate change record and will be reclassified to an Administrative Clerk III to provide clerical support to the new Office of Oil and Gas Systems Facilities. Funding will be from interagency receipts provided by an RSA with Department of Natural Resources, as described above. In addition, a plans reviewer position in this component will also be assigned to this office, and eventually reclassified as another TAPS Fire Safety Specialist. This increment will fund these two positions. A third position, currently assigned to the Joint Pipeline Office, is already funded with interagency receipts from DNR.
Locating the Fire and Life Safety Office of Oil and Gas Systems with the Natural Resources State Pipeline Coordinator's Office in one location will provide a central office for the oil and gas industry. It will allow for efficient knowledge sharing and effective use of skills between petroleum oversight partners.

This project will create a Driving Under the Influence (DUI) enforcement team based in Fairbanks. The team will consist of three state trooper positions funded from a Alaska Highway Safety Office grant: one Sergeant (PCN 12-#012) and two State Troopers (PCN 12-#013 and 12-#014). The team will serve two purposes. They will provide DUI enforcement at events like the Arctic Man Race, Talkeetna Bluegrass Festival, Tanana Valley and Palmer State Fairs, and other events. Additionally, the troopers will offer concentrated DUI enforcement around the state in a manner that increases actual arrests and public awareness of the Alaska State Troopers' (AST) commitment to DUI eradication.
Troopers assigned to the DUI Enforcement Team will be provided specialized training in DUI enforcement and will use specially marked vehicles emblazoned with a DUI Enforcement Team logo. The use of those specially marked vehicles will alert citizens across the state to the presence of team members in their area. AST will also use the resources of the Department of Public Safety's public information office to generate media coverage of the DUI Enforcement Team.
One of AST's core services is to protect the lives of individuals traveling on the state's road system. Among the most obvious ways to accomplish that end result is to remove impaired drivers from the roads. The funding of this DUI enforcement team will be a significant step in this direction.

These activities include, but are not limited to, the detection and investigation of clandestine methamphetamine laboratories, distribution and sale of all illegal drugs, and the transportation, importation, and sale of alcohol in local option communities throughout the state of Alaska. The Alaska Bureau of Alcohol and Drug Enforcement (ABADE) also coordinates illegal drug and alcohol investigations to facilitate aggressive prosecution by various federal, state, and local criminal justice agencies. The majority of domestic violence and sexual assault cases are related to alcohol and drug abuse. This fund transfer will allow the continuation of the Drug Abuse Resistance Education (DARE) program into FY2013. The federal earmark that provided funding for the DARE program expires at the end of state fiscal year 2012. The federal funds provided for these two positions was appropriated in both the operating budget (Special Projects component) and the capital appropriation bill (Ch. 82, SLA2006, Pg. 81, Ln. 28-30), which is why the fund change is both a mixture of federal and capital improvement project (CIP) receipts.

These were federal grant funds AHSO received from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA).

During the summer of 2011, NHTSA informed both the AHSO and the ABHP that NHTSA funds could not be used to reimburse ABHP for traffic enforcement not relating to driving under the influence (DUI) activity and the expenditures billed for this program are currently under review and audit going back to FY2009. DPS received an FY2012 supplemental and FY2013 appropriation in the amount of $1.9 million to cover the estimated 50% cost of ABHP to provide general traffic enforcement (non- DUI), such as aggressive driving, speeding and seat belt enforcement along with the unallowable costs. Based on recent meetings with NHTSA, additional federal funding reductions are expected for the DUI-related traffic enforcement beginning in federal FY2013 (October 2012). Additional general funds are needed to fully fund the ABHP program in FY2014 and to maintain existing services. The costs included are personal services for the remaining cost of 23 positions not funded by the FY2013 Governor's increment and other line items for DUI related activities. Other line items include basic contractual services; core services, telecommunications, training, and equipment operating costs, supplies, such as ammunition and law enforcement supplies, and in-car enforcement equipment such as computers, radars, printers, and video.

The total budget requested for the ABHP program in FY2014, including $1,900.0 appropriated in FY2013 and this request, is $4,837.4.

This increment will fund one new Court Service Officer (CSO) position in response to increased need for court security, prisoner transports, and process services in Anchorage (PCN 12-#001).
Prisoner transport is a core service provided by the Alaska State Troopers (AST). As judges have been added to the Anchorage court and as the overall number of defendants who require extradition from out of state to Alaska increases, significant stress has been placed on the Anchorage Judicial Service unit. The addition of a court service officer to that unit will mean that AST can continue to meet the expectations of judges and ensure that increasing numbers of prisoners are transported safely.

During FY2005, a Veterans Court was added in Anchorage, as well as a new half-time magistrate. Affordable, quality, state-provided housing is essential for recruitment and retention of state troopers in rural Alaska. Phase III of the rural trooper housing plan will provide additional housing units in Dillingham and King Salmon. Continuation of the department's initiative to provide safe, habitable trooper housing in rural communities is critical to AST's ability to fill and retain troopers in rural positions, thus improving public safety services in rural Alaska.

FY2010 Increased Trooper Housing Lease and Utility Costs; Replacement Units
This increment request of $440.6 is for new units (previously state-owned) and increased utility and lease costs for existing housing units.
This request will cover the increased cost for existing trooper housing units: $200.6 for leases and utility costs. Currently, the department has seventy-six units throughout Alaska for state troopers and wildlife troopers located at rural posts. Sixty of the seventy-six units are leased facilities. Per the PSEA bargaining unit, the troopers are required to pay a portion of their salary for rent. The remaining costs are borne by the state. With the increased utilities and lease costs, this increment is necessary to continue having troopers located in rural Alaska.
The remaining $240.0 of this request is for leasing eight new units, seven of which were previously state-owned. Four of the units are located in Aniak near the airport. The airfield is expanding, requiring the department to secure other housing arrangements for Aniak troopers. The other four units are in Galena. The Galena units were previously old military houses that contain asbestos and lead. To renovate these units would cost more than leases.

This requests funding for emergency and preventative maintenance and repair of trooper posts and state-owned housing units within the Department of Transportation and Public Facilities' Central Region. A similar program has been in place in Northern Region for some time. This funding will fund a reimbursable services agreement with DOT&PF to perform inspections, develop a list of items needing repairs, and repair and/or replace worn or obsolete equipment (boilers, fans, roofs, carpet, rotted drywall/ceilings, doors and/or windows, etc.). Without funding, this preventative maintenance will not be performed and these facilities will deteriorate until they must be repaired on an emergency basis, which is inevitably more expensive and disruptive to program operations. Adequate, well-maintained, facilities are essential components of delivering services and is a significant factor in employee satisfaction with rural assignments.

The Department of Public Safety intends to request full funding in FY2014 to continue the law enforcement activities. Without this funding in FY2013 and FY2014, the department will not be able to effectively investigate and prosecute child predators. These investigative positions are responsible for identifying thousands of potential child molesters and proactively conducting investigations. As a result, they are able to identify, apprehend, and prosecute these offenders, often before they are able to perpetrate their crimes on an actual child victim. In other cases, their specialized investigative skills and technical abilities allow them to more effectively pursue leads and gather evidence that would not otherwise be obtainable. This results in cases that have a significantly greater probability of successful prosecution, resulting in fewer offenders on the streets who are able to victimize innocent children. Without these positions, these types of investigations and prosecutions will suffer a tremendous loss in effectiveness.

This increment will support enhanced trooper and VPSO recruiting efforts across Alaska as well as in other states. Funding will cover additional travel for recruitment efforts and field interviews, advertising, development of promotional items, and updated web pages. Current recruitment practices have failed to generate a sufficient applicant pool (over 15 qualified applicants) per cycle who make it through the initial selection and training process. The Alaska State Troopers compete head-to-head with many other law enforcement agencies in the state for a limited pool of qualified applicants. Innovative recruiting techniques need to be developed and implemented.

Lease Costs
This funding will cover the increased cost of existing and new office leases.
Ketchikan Post: The recent purchase by the state of a building in Ketchikan to be converted into a long overdue trooper post will have some incremental costs attached to it. Approximately $10.0 per year is needed for snow removal, building maintenance, cleaning services, etc.
Palmer Post: The current office space in Palmer for "B" Detachment, ABI, ABWE, and ABADE has been expanded from previous years. Some improvements are needed, and the cost for items like an upgraded alarm system for the building and evidence or acquiring of a new PBX telephone and intercom system capable of handling at least 99 extensions will be charged back as leased or contractual cost. The various upgrades are estimated at $80.0 per year.
Western Mat-Su Valley Post: The department plans to close the current Big Lake post, and consolidate those troopers and some from the overcrowded Palmer post into a new Western Mat-Su Valley post. This will increase state trooper presence and improve response time in an area needing a high-visibility trooper presence. The cost is estimated at about $100.0 per year.
Willow: The addition of the Willow substation has improved service to the Willow area at a cost of $12.0 per year.
Talkeetna Post: The new office lease in Talkeetna is now in a much better location and is near the Park Highway. The increased cost of this lease and an additional, secure, property/equipment and evidence storage area is approximately $42.0.

Glennallen Office: The Glennallen Post's office lease expires in FY 2005 and has been put out to bid. Although the final cost will not be known until bids are received, it is estimated to be $12.0.
Emmonak Office: Office space is needed in Emmonak in order to accommodate two trooper positions, at an expected cost of about $10.0 annually.
Nome Office: The Nome office space needs to be expanded in order to accommodate the increased number of commissioned and support personnel recently assigned to the post. This expansion of office space is expected to cost about $2.0 annually.
Iliamna Office: This office, currently rented on a month-to-month basis, is inadequate and not truly habitable. Consequently, the Iliamna state trooper position has been left vacant and enforcement matters are by temporary assignments. Based on responses to a request for proposal issued in FY04, the cost is expected to be $40.0 annually.

FY2006 5 New Troopers to Improve Rural Road System Traffic Enforcement and Other Law Enforcement Services	Inc	803.5	398.5	31.0	160.0	20.0		194.0	0.0	0.0	5	0	0
This increase will add five new state troopers to improve public safety services and consistent traffic enforcement in areas along Alaska's rural road system and in Southeast Alaska. The five additional troopers will be stationed in areas identified as having high case loads and frequent emergency calls for service, currently anticipated to be Cooper Landing/Moose Pass, Delta Junction, Juneau (rural enforcement), Fairbanks (rural enforcement) and Fairbanks, relief shift sergeant.
By adding personnel resources, AST can increase its dedicated efforts to reduce traffic fatalities and to increase response capabilities along rural highways and in highway communities. The five new trooper positions would be a significant and positive step towards helping AST to more effectively accomplish its overall mission. Currently, it is difficult for AST to adequately respond to all calls for service and provide for proactive traffic enforcement in the rural areas identified. These new positions would substantially help in serving the public in these highway communities.
Cooper Landing: This stretch along the Seward highway has seen a tremendous increase in traffic related incidents/accidents and a significant increase in calls for service in recent years. This post currently has one trooper assigned. A second position is needed to cover multiple calls and those time periods when the one trooper is not available. An additional trooper position will improve overall response times in this area, as well as augment the services provided near the northern boundaries of both the Seward and Soldotna posts.
Delta Junction: This post is currently staffed with a sergeant, three patrol troopers, and an ABWE trooper. With the National Missile Defense system coming on line, Delta has experienced a marked increase in population, and with that, an increase in calls for service. Because Delta Junction is remote, but on the highway system, the workload includes a significant amount of traffic related calls such as motor vehicle accidents and special traffic enforcement projects. The increased population growth and high wildlife resource and outdoor activities during the winter and hunting seasons over task the post troopers with many search and rescue efforts, special enforcement events like the Arctic Man snow machine event, and the continuous calls for service.

 FY2006 5 New Troopers to Improve Rural Road
 System Traffic Enforcement and Other Law

Juneau Post (rural support): The number of rural communities in Southeast Alaska without their own police departments has increased. Calls for service from Angoon, Gustavus, Kake, and other remote areas require the Juneau post troopers to travel to these communities routinely. However, with the number of other areas requiring response, these visits are frequently day trips with very little time for proactive, community policing activities. In addition, travel is often restricted so post troopers are available for required standby. By adding one trooper to this rural response capability, the number and quality of overnight visits would be increased.

Fairbanks Post (rural support): The Fairbanks post is assigned both urban patrol with a large population base, and highway/rural patrol for an vast geographic area. It is also a training post with a constant need for experienced Field Training Officers (FTO) to train new recruits. As a result of the current drain on resources, the Fairbanks post troopers assigned to rural support are not able to complete the rural area visits needed, and have little time to do rural highway/traffic enforcement. The addition of another trooper position to the rural support function will ensure more effective response to village calls for service and allow for an increased level of rural traffic enforcement.

Fairbanks Post (patrol): D Detachment, specifically the Fairbanks patrol, has a significant need for a relief shift sergeant position, similar to Palmer Post. The post currently has three sergeants assigned to patrol, one other sergeant supervising the roving rural unit, and a fifth sergeant assigned to oversee the large Judicial Services unit. This post is one of the two largest training detachments in the state, with two recruit Field Training Evaluation Program cycles each year. Many of our FTO's have only a few years of experience themselves, and having a sergeant available to provide on the spot guidance and mentoring is of paramount importance. A fourth patrol sergeant would fill in the troublesome gap created in supervision when another patrol sergeant is on his or her regular day off or on annual leave. This is a far more effective way to do business than utilizing a trooper Officer in Charge (OIC) to temporarily cover a shift, leaving a shift short the sergeant and then partly short a trooper by giving the OIC the sergeant duties, taking him or her away from primary response responsibility.

This increment will fund two new Court Service Officer (CSO) positions in response to increased the need for court security, prisoner transports, and process services in Fairbanks and Palmer.

Requests by judges for additional courtroom security and associated process service needs have continued to expand throughout the years. In Palmer, Kenai, and Fairbanks, for instance, the number of judges, courtrooms, and case dockets have significantly increased over the past five years.

In Palmer, there are five different court rooms being used with the grand jury room used as a sixth room when needed. Thirty-three percent more criminal cases have been filed in the Palmer court than in the prior year. The Palmer court also expects to add an additional district court judge to operate a night and weekend court. The one trooper and four CSOs assigned to Palmer Judicial Services are insufficient to support six judges in six courtrooms, including operating at night and weekends. Additionally, the number of prisoner transports handled by the Palmer CSOs has increased 20 percent. At the same time, there has been a 7.8 percent increase in criminal process service, an 8.7 percent increase in domestic violence orders served, and 67.2 percent increase in the number of civil case process service.

In Fairbanks, the current number of CSOs is inadequate to effectively perform the assigned tasks. Currently there are six CSOs, one trooper, and one trooper sergeant assigned to the Fairbanks Judicial Services unit and one CSO assigned to the Barrow court. Like other judicial services units, Fairbanks Judicial Services (JS) is responsible for service of civil and criminal court process, providing physical security in the court building and in courtrooms during trials, as well as transporting prisoners from the Fairbanks Correctional Center (FCC) to the courthouse, mental commitments to and from area hospitals, and for transporting and extraditing prisoners throughout Alaska and the rest of the United States.
Between June and the end of September 2004, the Fairbanks Judicial Services unit transported 1,316 adult prisoners between the Fairbanks Correctional Center (FCC) and the courthouse for an average of 314 prisoner transports per month. During the same time period, Fairbanks Judicial Services spent a total of 76 hours administering the video arraignment system at FCC for a total of 1,170 prisoners, an average of 292 per month or 9 per day. In October of 2004, the Fairbanks court opened the fifth floor of the court building for use, adding a 12th courtroom and another grand jury room. Three more courtrooms are planned for in the near future. An increase in courtrooms means a corresponding increase in the numbers of trials and in-custody hearings coming under the responsibility of Judicial Services. Due in part to a lack of CSOs, the Fairbanks Detachment state trooper patrol has served 147 domestic violence protective orders during the last six months that ordinarily would have been assigned to Judicial Services. Fairbanks patrol has also assisted with some high risk prisoner transports and courtroom security. This assistance, while valuable, takes away from these troopers' primary law enforcement mission.

Add one Administrative Investigator (what many police departments call "internal affairs investigator") to provide dedicated resources to specifically address non-criminal personnel investigations within AST and AWT, in the department's other divisions, and occasionally in other police departments. Current practice is to assign internal investigations to troopers and investigators assigned to field detachments and bureaus. This causes delays in criminal investigations because troopers become focused on the administrative investigations, which are complex and time consuming due to federal case law related to police agency internal investigations and provisions of bargaining unit agreements. Addition of these two investigators would enhance DPS's ability to respond to citizen complaints of trooper malfeasance and to conduct investigations (when requested, and resources permitting) into criminal and non-criminal matters at other agencies. And finally, these new investigators would enable DPS to conduct sensitive non-DPS investigations and to investigate political corruption cases. This requests funding for emergency and preventative maintenance and repair of trooper posts and state-owned housing units within the Department of Transportation and Public Facilities' Central Region. A similar program has been in place in Northern Region for some time. This funding will fund a reimbursable services agreement with DOT&PF to perform inspections, develop a list of items needing repairs, and repair and/or replace worn or obsolete equipment (boilers, fans, roofs, carpet, rotted drywall/ceilings, doors and/or windows, etc.). Without funding, this preventative maintenance will not be performed and these facilities will deteriorate until they must be repaired on an emergency basis, which is inevitably more expensive and disruptive to program operations.

This increment provides general funds for increased domestic violence and sexual assault (DV/SA) related investigations, training, and victim exam costs. Three new State Trooper/Investigator positions in Anchorage are included in this request (PCN 12-#070, 12-#076, 12-#077) for investigations and enforcement. This request funds start-up costs (vehicle, law enforcement equipment, training, uniforms) and eleven months of personal services funding in FY2011. The department will need to retain start up funding of the investigator positions in FY2012 to fully fund on-going full year costs.
The trooper/investigator positions ($500.0) will primarily focus on providing vital follow-up investigative activities specific to sexual assault and sexual abuse of minor cases. The trooper/investigators will coordinate their investigative activities with the responding trooper/officer as well as the prosecutor assigned to the case. Follow-up investigative activities will include locating and interviewing witnesses, investigating "prior bad acts" committed by the offender, determining if there are any additional victims, and conducting numerous other investigative actions recommended by the prosecution. The department anticipates that these follow-up activities will provide a more thorough report, and thus support the overall goal to enhance prosecution and hold offenders accountable.
The department will contract with a trainer ($75.0) to increase and enhance training to rural Alaska. Training will be provided on DV/SA related issues to Village Public Safety Officers, Village and Tribal Police Officers, and other first responders such as behavioral health aides and village health aides. The goal is to increase understanding and recognition of these crimes and increase skills specific to the discipline in an effort to better enhance services to victims in rural Alaska as well as increase reporting. The contract trainer will work directly with the existing Program Coordinator II position and will assist with the coordination of statewide training, development of training curriculum, and provide technical assistance when needed.

Alaska Highway Safety Office The Alaska Bureau of Highway Patrol (ABHP) has operated with funds provided by the Department of Transportation and Public Facilities, Alaska Highway Safety Office (AHSO) through a reimbursable services agreement (RSA). These are grant funds AHSO receives from the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration (NHTSA). During the summer of 2011, NHTSA informed both the AHSO and the ABHP that NHTSA funds could not be used to reimburse ABHP for traffic enforcement not relating to driving under the influence (DUI) activity. Additional federal funding reductions are anticipated for DUI-related traffic enforcement beginning in FY2014.
The costs included in this request are for personal services (it is estimated that 50% of ABHP members time is spent doing traffic enforcement which is not reimbursable); travel for traffic related statewide enforcement, court appearances, and training; contractual services such as towing/impound fees and medical evaluations for people who have been arrested for non-DUI offenses; and many other patrol related operating costs.
In order for ABHP to maintain the current level of traffic enforcement services to include non-DUI related activity such as impaired driving, youth drivers, aggressive driving and speeding, and seat belt enforcement, the department is requesting additional general funds for FY2013. In order to provide an appropriate level of professional service to the citizens of Alaska, the Department of Public Safety will increase trooper coverage in Fairbanks, the Mat-Su Valley and on the Kenai Peninsula by adding 15 new trooper positions, five for each patrol area. The department estimates it will be 6 months before new troopers are hired due to the intensive recruitment process required for Alaska State Troopers (AST). Funding is needed for 50% of salary and benefits in FY2014, as well as other operating costs, such as office supplies and travel. The department will seek additional funding for the full year of personal services costs in FY2015. One-time startup costs for trooper academy training and law enforcement equipment amount to $1,164.0 and are included in a separate transaction to be reversed in FY2015.

The lead wildlife enforcement agency in the state continues to be the Department of Public Safety. The National Marine Fisheries Services has increased the funding to DPS for increased Joint Enforcement Agreement (JEA) efforts. This increment will fund eight Public Safety Technician II to assist in conducting individual fishing quotas (IFQ) and crab dockside inspections for federal and state compliance with commercial fishery regulations. The increment is based on increased need for dockside monitoring and off shore enforcement presence in the federal fisheries, which have developed into long-term quota or rationalization fisheries. The expansion of the current JEA in FY2005 to 1.25 million was only the first step in the perceived requirement to double the program in the next year. This is based on expanded fishing time for IFQ fisheries as well as development of the new Federal Bering Sea Crab Rationalization program. Both of these fisheries management strategies result in increased need to monitor off shore for longer periods as well as develop a continual dockside compliance monitoring presence.

Since 1984, the Alaska Bureau of Wildlife Enforcement (ABWE) has seen a budgetary reduction in the number of commissioned troopers from a high of 118 to 89. (Includes 4 wildlife investigators in ABI.) The Bureau of Wildlife Enforcement is a vital component of the Department of Public Safety, and enforcement of wildlife laws is one of six core missions of the Alaska State Troopers. The long term success in meeting this critical mission is dependent on increasing the numbers of troopers in the bureau to a sustained, suitable level in order to maintain a sufficient law enforcement presence throughout the state. A similar program has been in place in Northern Region for some time. This funding will fund a reimbursable services agreement with DOT&PF to perform inspections, develop a list of items needing repairs, and repair and/or replace worn or obsolete equipment (boilers, fans, roofs, carpet, rotted drywall/ceilings, doors and/or windows, etc.). Without funding, this preventative maintenance will not be performed and these facilities will deteriorate until they must be repaired on an emergency basis, which is inevitably more expensive and disruptive to program operations. This request adds support costs for the fifteen new Village Public Safety Officers (VPSOs). This is the fifth year new VPSOs have been added, for a total of seventy-five new VPSO positions. The request includes one-time training for the new VPSO funded in FY2013. This increment and the increment included in the VPSO Contracts component provide full funding for the fifteen new VPSO positions.
This request increases the number of VPSOs statewide to a total of 116 positions. The Governor's plan is to request 15 VPSOs per year for a total of ten years to significantly improve rural law enforcement.

This fund change is required to maintain CDVSA shelter funding at FY2004 and FY2005 levels, and the council's other programs at the FY2005 level, 31 percent below FY2004.

Sec. 1, CH158, SLA2004, included legislative intent directing the council use all federal grant funds awarded in federal fiscal year 2005 in state fiscal year 2005. In past practice, the council has withheld approximately 25 percent of its federal grant awards until the succeeding fiscal year for unforeseen events generally resulting from the lag between the state and federal fiscal years. As a result of this change, the council expended all of its reserves in FY2005, leaving a 23 percent shortfall in anticipated federal funds for FY2006, assuming flat funding.

In addition, FY2006 funding for the Sexual Assault Prevention/Rape Prevention Education funding from the Department of Health and Social Services is also projected to decrease by $15.6.

Finally, the significantly smaller permanent fund dividend in FY2005 will mean a commensurate decrease in the amount of felon's dividends available for appropriation to the council.

Increasing costs of doing business are having significant impacts on the operations of sexual assault and domestic violence programs across the state. Programs are struggling to maintain basic services, crisis management, intervention, and prevention services due to the rising costs of fuel oil, utilities, food, personal services, and insurance. The council recognized this challenge and approved requesting an increment at their September 5, 2008 quarterly meeting.
Additionally, both the council and the FY2008 CDVSA Legislative Task Force recognized deficiencies in two other major areas: 1) the state does not have adequate data collection systems and ongoing research on the prevalence of domestic violence and sexual assault; and 2) the lack of funding to support statewide and local prevention efforts.
This request will provide funding for the above priority areas as outlined below:
1.) Domestic violence and sexual assault shelters and programs: $1,167,900. This amount is based on a 22 percent increase for rural programs (those outside of the Anchorage bowl area) and a 13 percent increase for Anchorage based programs.
2.) Data and research: $290,000. This amount will allow CDVSA to work with the Alaska Network on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault and the University of Alaska to gather statewide data on the incidences and prevalence of domestic violence and sexual assault in order to more accurately measure the success of our program services and prevention measures, as well as support the gathering of data on the effectiveness of batterer intervention programs.
3.) Prevention of domestic violence and sexual assault: $220,000. CDVSA currently has no state funding specifically for prevention efforts and only a small amount of federal funds although it is one of our statutory mandates (AS 18.66.050). This increment will support prevention efforts at the local level through grants to community providers and a statewide campaign in coordination with the Alaska Network on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault.

Funding available from permanent fund dividend (PFD) appropriations in lieu of dividends to criminals who are ineligible to receive a PFD has decreased. This fund change replaces a portion of PFD Criminal authorization with general funds. The amount of the PFD Criminal funding is determined by OMB and the Department of Revenue.
The Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault receives funding from Permanent Fund Dividend appropriations in lieu of dividends to convicted criminals who have forfeited their eligibility for a PFD. Because the amount available from these forfeited dividends will decrease in FY2011, it is necessary to replace these funds just to maintain existing levels of support to the state's victim service programs and funds to continue research and prevention efforts. Governor's Choose Respect Initiative marches and DELTA communities. It is expected that participants will develop a specific community prevention plan that they will begin implementing following the conference. Technical assistance for communities will be available to assure that the plans generated during the conference are able to be realized.

Green Dot:

The Council proposes adapting Green Dot, an evidenced-based bystander intervention program, to develop a train-the-trainers module for Alaska. Developing a train-the-trainers module is an economical way to encourage expansion of Green Dot into rural and remote communities of the state.

The Governor's Choose Respect community partners/hosts are seeking concrete suggestions for ways that community members can have an active role in the initiative's efforts. People often want to do something to help end domestic violence and sexual assault, but don't know what to do or how to do it. Green Dot is about engaging individual community members and leaders in prevention by providing them with tools to intervene safely before violence occurs. The goal is to equip community members with skills allowing them to integrate moments of prevention within existing relationships and daily activities. By doing so, new norms will be introduced and those within their sphere of influence will be significantly influenced to move from passive agreement that violence is wrong to active intervention.

Green Dot is currently being employed as a strategy by South Central Foundation and the community of Kodiak. Bethel, Dillingham, and Sitka are also examining how to incorporate Green Dot into their community prevention strategies.

Girls on the Run:

The Council proposes funding three Run Councils and an Alaskan implementation resource. Funding will support training for the Councils, fingerprint reports on adult volunteers, and program supplies.

Girls on the Run is a positive youth development program which combines an interactive curriculum and running to inspire self-respect and healthy lifestyles in pre-teen girls. The program's design includes three 24-lesson curriculums teaching life skills through group processing, running games, and workouts. The three-part curriculum is taught by certified Girls on the Run coaches and includes understanding self, valuing teamwork, and understanding how we connect with and shape the world at large. Girls choose and conduct a community service project as part of the program and at each season's conclusion the girls complete a 5k running event as a group. A successful Girls on the Run Council operates out of the AWARE program in Juneau and organizes events throughout Southeast Alaska. The Governor's Initiative Big Workgroup recommended expanding this strategy further into Alaska.

The Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault is supporting the Alaska Network on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault with their Legal Advocacy Project by providing funding to support the recruitment and training of pro bono attorneys across the state to assist victims of domestic violence and sexual assault with their legal issues. This effort is to help fill the considerable gap between referrals to the program and the capacity of the program to provide the number of consultations and representation needed.

While grantees have received small increases over the last three years, funding has not kept pace with need. During the FY2013-14 grant process, grantees requested over $14 million to maintain services and only $11.4 million was available for distribution. A 2.5% increase would narrow this funding gap and increase options for programs working to stabilize service availability. This funding will cover basic costs such as utilities, telephone coverage, insurance and food for shelter residents. Rural programs will also use funding to cover emergency transportation--getting adult victims and their children out of villages to safe shelter in a regional hub.
During FY2012, over 6,500 adults and 2,500 children accessed shelter services. Programs provided slightly over 92,000 nights of safe shelter, responding to over 14,200 crisis calls. 7,127 adults received legal advocacy services and advocates assisted approximately 1,000 survivors of sexual assault during the forensic exam process.

The Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault will provide grants to non-profit organizations for non-residential services such as hotlines, safety planning, medical accompaniments and legal advocacy to victims in remote areas. At least 4 grassroots groups, working diligently to build community support and infrastructure, are now ready to seek support from state and federal funding sources as non-profit organizations. Seed grants from the state will assist in leveraging federal dollars; stabilizing operations so they can focus on assisting victims in their home villages.
A report from the US Department of Justice Office of Justice Programs Bureau of Justice Statistics shows from 2000-2009 victims who received direct assistance from a victim service agency were more likely to see an arrest made in the case and have contact with a non-law enforcement criminal justice official, such as a judge or prosecutor, than victims who did not receive direct assistance.

The Alaska Victimization Survey (AVS) estimates show that 58.6% of adult women in Alaska (or 144,881) experienced sexual violence, intimate partner violence, or both, in their lifetime; and 11.8% (or 29,174) experienced these forms of violence in the past year. In order to reduce this trend, the department needs to engage communities in the changing of social norms so that violence becomes intolerable. This funding for community prevention coordinators will allow more communities to focus prevention efforts and develop comprehensive approaches to changing social norms. These are not state of Alaska positions, but new positions in community based non-profit agencies. The primary prevention of domestic violence and sexual assault is an emerging field. Only in the last three years, has the Council on Domestic Violence and Sexual Assault (CDVSA) received state funds dedicated for prevention. FY2010 was the first year the state allocated funds for primary prevention in CDVSA's base budget ($157.0). In FY2011, CDVSA received one-time item of $300.0 for public education and marketing through the Governor's Initiative. In FY2012, CDVSA received a one-time increment of $450.0 for public education and marketing through the Governor's Initiative. Both positions will be located in Anchorage. The Criminal Records and Identification Bureau (R&I) provides critical support to law enforcement statewide. As the number of Alaska State Troopers, Anchorage Police, and other law enforcement agents increase, Records and Identification's workload increases as well. This unit is responsible for the entry of arrest and disposition information into the Alaska Public Safety Information Network (APSIN), a critical resource for statewide law enforcement who rely on accurate and up-to-date information for investigations and making traffic stops. The unit receives over 57,000 disposition documents and over 26,000 arrest fingerprint cards each year. Each disposition and arrest card must be reviewed for completeness and accuracy. On average, 45 percent of all arrest fingerprint cards received require corrections or modifications prior to updating APSIN and forwarding to the FBI for inclusion in the national database. Ensuring this complete and accurate entry of arrest and disposition information is time consuming. Currently, staff in this unit have a backlog in both arrest fingerprint card update/entry and disposition entry dating back to July 2004. Citation entry (minor consuming alcohol and other non-criminal offenses) is also significantly backlogged. Because entry of criminal records has a higher priority, no citation disposition information has been entered into the data base for a year. Without the additional clerk to assist, timely and accurate entry of criminal justice information into APSIN will not occur. The Quality Assurance Unit is responsible for ensuring the accuracy of data maintained in APSIN. Additionally, AS 12.62.150(c) mandates regular audits of criminal justice information maintained by the state. Because most of this unit's resources have been redirected to other essential targeted and random audits, the formal audit process as required in AS 12.62 has fallen significantly behind. The mission of the Criminal Records and Identification Bureau is to maintain and provide criminal record and identification information to authorized recipients. Accuracy is essential, or the data is meaningless. The addition of a Criminal Justice Technician I will provide this important, mandated, audit function.

This increment, combined with existing federal funds, will be used to establish two non-permanent criminal justice technician positions and fund a program to improve Alaska's criminal history information.
Records and Identification (R&I) has received funds under the National Criminal History Improvement Program (NCHIP). Currently, there is a backlog of requests to complete and correct missing criminal history data. Last year's annual report showed that the central repository has over 100,000 criminal charges over 2 years old without dispositions. In addition, statewide courts have notified the repository that due to staffing levels and workload, they are unable to continue providing copies of court judgments not sent through the normal process to the repository.
R&I will use funding provided by this increment and $134.5 of federal funds to hire two long-term criminal justice technician positions to focus on identifying missing criminal charge dispositions and update the state repository. The federal funds allotted to this project were not sufficient to fully fund the personal services costs, travel, and equipment costs projected for this project. This project is expected to last a year.
This request fully funds a long-term non-perm Criminal Justice Technician II (12-#016) position to travel to as many as 43 court locations, police departments, and Department of Corrections offices in Alaska to retrieve missing disposition information, in support of the unit's mission to provide complete, accurate, and timely criminal history record information to law enforcement agencies and the public. Some of these missing dispositions can affect individuals' rights to purchase firearms or obtain employment in certain fields.
This request also fully funds a long-term non-perm Criminal Justice Technician I (12-#015) position to research and correct the criminal history records in the state repository, and track all corrections made. Targeted records will be prioritized as follows: 1) records where an error is suspected, and where a pending decision requires the missing or corrected information; 2) felony charges without disposition if the individual has not already been determined ineligible to possess a firearm; 3) misdemeanor assault or other charges that may have involved domestic violence; and 4) other charges with missing dispositions less than 5 years old.

This position will help prevent an increase in the backlog in fingerprint card processing and in court disposition processing. The Records and Identification component is responsible for entry and updating of arrest, prosecution, and disposition information in the Alaska Public Safety Information Network (APSIN) criminal history record repository and the National Criminal Information Center (NCIC) Interstate Identification Index (III). The volume of criminal fingerprint cards received over the last 10 years has increased 55 percent, and the number of requests for criminal history background checks for employment or licensing purposes has increased over 120 percent. Historically, the data quality received on criminal fingerprint cards has been poor. During FY2006, approximately 51 percent of all fingerprint cards received required some manual intervention and correction before the processing and record updating can proceed. As the electronic submission of fingerprints increases, an error correction system has been developed to capture and hold fingerprint card transactions with apparent discrepancies as they are processed electronically through the repository. This process will eventually significantly improve the timeliness of processing of fingerprint cards. This new position will be responsible for research, analysis, and correction of fingerprint card transactions that are submitted to the Error Correction System (ECS). Submittal of transactions to the ECS indicates that a data error either on the fingerprint card or in APSIN has occurred. The technician must examine multiple databases to identify and correct these data errors. Currently, the FBI is tracking submission statistics for electronic and manual fingerprint card submissions. Alaska is well behind the national average for timeliness. Implementing electronic transmission for all types of transactions (criminal and applicant) is essential if the state hopes to improve its timeliness of fingerprint transaction submissions to the FBI. Currently, there is a two month backlog in fingerprint card processing and a six month backlog in court disposition processing. The department is withdrawing its request for a new Criminal Justice Technician I who was to be responsible for research, analysis, and correction of fingerprint card transactions that are submitted to the Error Correction System (ECS).
The department will instead rely on efficiencies from new live scan fingerprint machines and increased training and cooperation with the Department of Corrections to achieve reduction in the fingerprint error rate.

FY2009 Add Criminal Justice Technician I for Fingerprint Error Correction (continued) processing and record updating can proceed.
As the electronic submission of fingerprints increases, an error correction system has been developed to capture and hold fingerprint card transactions with apparent discrepancies as they are processed electronically through the repository. This process will eventually significantly improve the timeliness of processing of these fingerprint cards.
This new position will be responsible for research, analysis, and correction of fingerprint card transactions that are submitted to the Error Correction System (ECS). Submittal of transactions to the ECS indicates that a data error either on the fingerprint card or in APSIN has occurred. The technician must examine multiple databases to identify and correct these data errors.
Currently, the FBI is tracking submission statistics for electronic and manual fingerprint card submissions. Alaska is well behind the national average for timeliness. Implementing electronic transmission for all types of transactions (criminal and applicant) is essential if the state hopes to improve its timeliness of fingerprint transaction submissions to the FBI.
Currently, there is a two month backlog in fingerprint card processing and a six month backlog in court disposition processing. Without this position, backlogs will continue to grow, since existing staff will be responsible for completing this new duty.

and federal law enforcement agencies around Alaska.

Since inception, these positions have been funded primarily by federal funds through a Reimbursable Service Agreement (RSA) from the Alaska State Troopers, Narcotics Task Force. In early years, a cash match of around twenty percent was required. However, for the past two years, the positions have been primarily funded by the JAG funds with no cash match requirement.

The amount of federal funds available has been declining. In addition, the State of Alaska will see a 10% reduction in this fiscal year's grant since we are not compliant with Title 1 (Sex Offender Registration and Notification Act - SORNA) of the Adam Walsh Child Protection and Safety Act of 2008 (Public Law 109-248). SORNA provides a comprehensive set of minimum standards for sex offender registration and notification in the United States.

If not funded, the component will be unable to meet its statutory obligation to conduct training and audits of agencies that access Alaska's criminal justice information. Ultimately, system timeliness, completeness, and accuracy will decline, greatly increasing the risk of harm to public safety officers and Alaska's citizens. Failure to comply with standards required to access national criminal history systems could result in the loss of access to that information on a statewide level which would affect all law enforcement and citizen in Alaska.

The Alaska Records and Identification Bureau has been under collecting various restricted revenue sources for several years. This decrement will reduce the budgeted authority for the following funding sources:
Federal Receipts - Reduce $507.2 (50.4%), leaving $500.0 authorized. The amount of the yearly National Criminal History Improvement Program (NCHIP) award has been around $350.0. Other federal grants are awarded occasionally.
General Fund Program Receipts (GFPR) - Reduce $493.6 (33%), leaving $1,000.0 authorized. Records and ID has collected just under $1,000.0 GFPR for the past several years.

This expanded ability will also allow the lab to respond to scenes where evidence is in danger of loss or contamination from weather, incoming tides, or other unstoppable events. The goal is to respond to as many "volume" crimes as is possible, i.e., burglaries, to increase the number of fingerprints and DNA samples that will go to the lab and into the databases. This new focus supports the laboratory's mission to identify offenders earlier before they go on to commit more serious crimes.

Grant funds will be used for personnel, updating and replacement of computers to allow installation of a Laboratory Information Management System, education, training, and certification. Funds will also be used for contract or non-perm personnel (PCN 12-#024) to assist with the analysis of physical evidence. This will enable the laboratory to offer forensic support to law enforcement in areas where existing staff does not have expertise.
DNA Capacity Enhancement Program ($73.7):
The purpose of this project is to improve the DNA analysis capacity and infrastructure of the laboratory so that DNA samples can be processed more efficiently and cost-effectively. The lab will use funds for laboratory and computer equipment, supplies, contractor-provided services, and training to achieve this goal.
Forensic Casework DNA Backlog Reduction Program ($194.6):
The goal of this project is to reduce the current backlog of DNA cases submitted to the lab. This backlog of 370 cases includes 70 serology cases that have not yet been screened for potential DNA evidence. This reduction will be achieved through the use of overtime by existing laboratory staff and the hiring of temporary contract staff. These individuals will be directly engaged in the processing of forensic evidence that may contain DNA. At least one non-perm experienced DNA criminalist (PCN 12-#023) may be added to the staff. This, combined with overtime worked by existing staff, will allow more staff-hours to be directed towards the DNA backlog. Supplies to conduct these additional DNA analyses will be purchased. This position has been vacant since October 2002. Existing funds have been redirected to filling higher level Criminalist positions and funding laboratory supplies to keep pace with high demand from law enforcement agencies around the state. This position will be assigned support work to allow criminalists to concentrate on the more technical aspects of their jobs. Examples of these duties include: - organize and send out convicted offender DNA samples to the contract laboratory for analysis to reduce a backlog in getting samples entered into the DNA database; - provide technical support to the DNA section by doing basic laboratory and equipment maintenance, calibration, and test preparation; - provide technical support to the breath alcohol section by preparing and shipping calibration standards to statewide law enforcement agencies; - maintain the laboratory's chemical inventory and assist with ordering of supplies and consumables; - provide backup for the evidence room in receiving, packaging, and shipping of evidence. This position will assist the laboratory in meeting their target of increasing the convicted offender and DNA profiles entered into the DNA database each year.	Inc	57.0	57.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0	0	0

FY2007 Criminalist III for Alcohol/Toxicology Section This request will fund a new Criminalist III (12-#010) position to focus on toxicology screening. This will free up the Criminalist IV supervisor who has been performing these laboratory tests, and allow that position to focus on laboratory quality assurance issues and supervision of the unit's other staff. The blood alcohol / toxicology section of the laboratory has experienced tremendous growth over the past several years. In 2001, 149 blood alcohol reports were issued. In 2004, the number of reports reached 682. In 2005, there have already been 256 reports issued. The demand for toxicology screening has similarly increased. This service had been discontinued in 1999 due to lack of funding and the obsolescence of the testing equipment. In 2003, federal Crime Lab Improvement Project (CLIP) funds were used to purchase new equipment and existing personnel conducted the tests. The demand for this service has increased from 33 reports in 2003 to 133 reports in the first seven months of calendar year 2005. This will allow the laboratory to better perform their core service to managing the statewide Breath Alcohol Program and provide improved customer service to the law enforcement agencies around the state currently participating in this program.	Inc	82.4	80.4	0.0	0.0	2.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	1	0	0

The laboratory is requesting a Paralegal position (12-#011) to assist laboratory management in developing policies and regulations and to provide interagency cooperation. A concentrated and professional effort must be made to develop and update the many protocol and reference manuals, to research and respond to discovery requests, and develop regulations. Existing regulations must be reviewed, and new regulations are needed for new topics. AS. 44.41.035 requires the department to adopt reasonable procedures for collection, analysis, storage, expungement, and use of the DNA identification registration system. Existing laboratory procedure manuals need to be evaluated to determine if any procedures are missing. Some procedures must be adopted in regulation. This position will also improve interagency coordination with the Department of Law. Training should be provided to the Department of Law regarding evidence collection and testing practices, and on the limits of the laboratory's personnel and equipment. The paralegal will work with discovery issues, clarifying what case records should be retained and in which format. Assigning these duties to a paralegal will allow laboratory technical staff to spend less time on clerical, administrative, and legal paperwork tasks. This would result in the laboratory focusing on the end result of improved forensic science and assisting law enforcement agencies with their investigations.

Many of these backlogged sexual assault cases do not have suspects and have the potential to be solved through the DNA database. FY2008 New Criminalist IV 12-#012 Quality Assurance Manager	Inc	112.5	103.8	2.0	3.7	3.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	1	0	0
The crime lab is accredited by the American Society of Crime Laboratory Directors Laboratory Accreditation Board (ASCLD/LAB). Accreditation requirements mandate that an accredited laboratory have a Quality Assurance (QA) Manager. These duties are currently filled by a supervisor position that has too many other responsibilities to effectively complete all assignments. One of the recommendations coming out of the laboratory's 2006 external ASCLD/LAB inspection was to have a full time quality manager. The quality manager is one of the most important positions in any accredited crime laboratory, and the time required to carry out QA responsibilities along with the increased stringency of ASCLD/LAB accreditation standards demand that a laboratory of this size have a position dedicated for this purpose.
Quality assurance is of the utmost importance to any forensic laboratory to ensure that guilty parties are identified and innocent parties exonerated. Crime laboratories have had to suspend case work or close down because of issues resulting from inadequate resources directed toward quality assurance. Problems arising from quality issues can jeopardize the laboratory's accreditation status, which in turn could jeopardize the laboratory's reputation in court, eligibility for federal forensic science grants, and participation in the National DNA Index System.

It is requested that the utility portion of the FY2008 budget be increased by $15,000 to cover the expected continued upward trend in utility expenses.
Utility bills have to be paid. If sufficient funding for this purpose is not provided, other areas of the budget will have to be reduced, which could adversely impact the laboratory's ability to provide forensic support to law enforcement. FY2010 Fund DNA collection kits and reagents, and other cost increases	Inc	127.0	0.0	10.0	54.0	63.0	0.0	0.0	0.0	0	0	0
This increment provides funding for additional Combined DNA Index System (CODIS) collection kits. When HB90 was passed into law, it provided funding for an estimate of 500 DNA samples per month. The actual number received is closer to 1,000 per month. Each collection kit costs $3.50 in FY2009; 500 additional kits per month equates to $2,100 per year.
The cost to purchase enough DNA reagents to run the testing has also increased. DNA reagents are the most costly per sample of all tests performed in the laboratory. This request includes $40,000 and would fund the processing of 400 additional violent crimes and property crimes cases per year. It would also allow for processing an additional 6,000 CODIS samples per year.
Due to geographical distances in Alaska, much of the evidence analyzed is transferred to and from the laboratory via commercial couriers such as the U.S. Postal Service, airfreight, and express couriers. The best practice is to return the evidence to the submitting agency so it is available for trial, and to free the existing laboratory's limited storage space. Prior to FY2008, the laboratory administration avoided returning evidence due to the expense involved. Beginning in FY2008, evidence was returned to the submitting agencies. This resulted in an increase of $40,000 in costs from FY2007 to FY2008.
To provide the best evidence for laboratory testing, it is imperative to train officers how to collect evidence in the field. Without this hands-on training, many officers end up collecting evidence of marginal or no value. This increment would fund $10,000 in additional travel for this purpose.
The laboratory uses approximately 2,000 rounds of ammunition per year to test weapons submitted for ballistic comparison. The cost of ammunition has doubled in the past year. This increment provides $2,000 for this increased expense.
During FY2008, the laboratory implemented a case management system to provide for accurate case statistics and Intranet-enabled information sharing with statewide law enforcement agencies. The resulting increase in annual software maintenance costs for this system is $14,000 per year beginning in FY2010.
Without funding for these increased costs, the laboratory would have to absorb the expenses. This would result in assigning priorities to lab analysis based upon the crime, pending court dates, and probability of successful analysis. Some services would be done only as funds permit, such as evidence testing on unknown suspect property crimes and the testing and data entry of firearm cartridge casings into the National Integrated Ballistics Information Network (NIBIN).

Forensic medical exams performed on pediatric victims are extremely different from exams performed on adolescents or adults. However, the state of Alaska does not have a pediatric evidence collection kit or accompanying forms. Providers who conduct the exams are currently using a kit that was designed for adolescents and adults. The development and physical maturation of a pediatric victim is distinctly different from adult victims. The kits currently being used do not address these differences (forms and instructions) and as a result are inadequate. The development and distribution of a pediatric kit will greatly enhance evidence collection, documentation, evaluation, and management of pediatric cases, providing an increased level of services to some of our most vulnerable victims-children.

The analyst performing this function processes about 60 cases per year; of which 22 percent (to date) have "hits" in the CODIS database (a suspect is identified). This position is critical to reducing the backlog of domestic violence/sexual assault cases. evidence integrity and quality of the scientific analysis. Currently, there is one maintenance specialist Journey Lead II employee who maintains the laboratory facility, to include the exterior landscaping and snow removal. The increased size and complexity of the new building will require the addition of one Maintenance Generalist Journey position.

Without this position, the laboratory would need to contract for the work. Because the laboratory deals in criminal evidence that must remain secure, all non-laboratory personnel must be escorted by a staff member while in spaces where evidence is accessible. This is a requirement dictated by national laboratory accreditation standards. This reduces the efficiency of scientific analysis, and affects the timeliness of test results.

The new position will be proficient in mechanical systems, electrical and plumbing systems, grounds maintenance, emergency power, and have a general knowledge of all types of equipment repair. This position must work independently to complete assigned duties and cover for the lead maintenance employee during absences. This employee would also do light janitorial duties in the secure laboratory areas as time permits. The laboratory will continue to contract for janitorial duties in the non-secured areas of the facility, such as the entryway, bathrooms, breakroom, and hallways.
